How does grant money keep flowing in a recession?

Thank your friends and neighbors. Over the last decade, hundreds of generous individuals in greater Williamsburg have established charitable funds that provide grants to our community.

Because of the many generous gifts we have received in the last few years, the amount of money for grants has actually gone up this year.

Times are tough. And they will be tough again. But there's a helping hand Williamsburg will always be able to count on: the Williamsburg Community Foundation.

We invite you to make a donation, apply for a grant, or just find out more about how the WCF supports the arts, historic preservation, the environment, health, education, and other programs that improve the quality of life in our community. Visit us online at www.williamsburgcommunityfoundation.org or give us a call at 757-259-1660.

My Place playground exists because generous individuals had the vision to support a play space for people of all abilities.

Grant recipients include over 100 local organizations, such as the Lackey Free Clinic (L) and Faith in Action (R).
